"It is amusing to hear sometimes the remarks those who "do not believe in advertising." Not they! But let a hint be thrown out in the Not heey! But let a fint be thrown out in the newspaper that, even in the most indirect manner, is calculated to bring their business before the public in a way that they do not prefer, and they will soon be heard from through the very same newspaper. We have often seen this fact illustrated in numerous ways—all going to prove the estimate placed upon newspaper. the estimate placed upon newspaper publications, even by those people who affect to disba-ieve that any value attaches to advertising. They know that unfavorable newspaper notices injure their business, and yet (strange inconsistency), hold that judicial advertising of that same business is worth nothing to them!

It is a notable fact that, in this community, the men in all departments of trade, who advertise most liberally and persistently, do the largest business and are the most successful in securing customers. There is a common mistake among those who even consider themselves business men about what is the best time to advertise. When business is dull, they think they can't afford to do it; and when times are flush and they haves plenty and when times are little and that they avosphenty to do, they think there is no necessity for it. But a little reflection should substitute all such that the real time to make the greatest effort is when business is dul', for the man who advertises judiciously. Except himself before the people, and makes the greatest effort, before the people, and makes the greatest effort, will get the largest share of the trade that is being done. A merchant or tradesman would not think of taking his sign down because business is dull: no more snould he withdraw his name from the remarks. from the newspaper in which the people have been accustomed to see it, for they might sus-pect that he had withdrawn from business. Beedes, there are always new customers coming into the market, and before they come to the city for their supplies, they look at the newspapers to see who advertises the articles they

Lastly: the local newspaper is a fair reflex of the business of the city or town in which it is sublished. People abroad properly regard its columns as a fair index of the pusiness and enterprise of the place in which it is published, and if it contain little or no local advertising, the second of the these is not much being done. they conclude that there is not much being done there, and it is not the market for them. These are facts which the experience and observation cievery tusiness man and newspaper reader can be truer than that FORGED BOND. - The Baltimore Sun says: -"There was a bearing before Commissioner Rigers yesterday of the charge against Andrew V. Robey, Thomas J. Frazier and John J. Watkins, of conspiracy to defraud the governmeat by sending to Washington a bond of Wat-kins as postmaster at Robeystowe, Prince George's county, purporting to be signed as sureties by George W. Richardson and Emanuel Knowles. The certificate of Frezer, a justice, is on the bond, tested by Robey. There was an additional charge that certain postago stamps sent to the pastoffice had not been accounted for. Goo. Watkins test fied that the first com munication to the department at Washington by mistake gave the name of Joe. W. Watkins for John J. Watkies, though there was no such the name was continued in the bond. Richard son testified he did not write his name to the bond, or au hor ze is to be stiffen, though he told Robey Le would go on the band. THE SHINN CASES .- The trial of the indictment against George R. Shine, for grand lar ceps, in embezzling a check alleged to have been paid to him by Wesley Avery for the Alexandria Building Association was brought to a close this atternoon. The jury, after being out since 5 o'clock yesterday evening, returned into court about 12,30 to day and rendered a verdict of guilty on the first count of the indicament, that being the one charging the largery of a check, verdict was rendered on the other count, charging the check to be the property of Wesley Avery. Mr. Columbus Alexander. which practically acquits the prisoner of that charge. The term of imprisonment was fixed at three years in the penitentiary.

The verdict was received in profound silenes, and the prisoner did not seem to be affected

All of the jurers signified their intention to ign a pe ition for pardon. The counsel for the prisoner made a motion in arrest of judement and for a new trial, which will be argued hereafter. It is understood that | Stock of Cigars and Cigarettes of choicest they claim a new trial on the ground that one of the iestructions directed the jury that a cheek from Avery, to the defendant, as secretary, was not legal tender as between the defendant and the association, and that they could not be required to receive it from him unless by some arricle of the constitution or by laws, they bound themselves to receive it; and that unless restraiged by such article, or by an agreement between Avery and Shinu, or instruction by Avery to Shinn, Shinn could lawfully collect the check, and they must find him not guilty under the first count. This, they claim, practically acquitted the prisoner on the first coupt, or at least rendered timpossible for the jury to convict him under the evidence as adduced.

Concern.-Prof. Charles Clary, cornet and violin soloist, assisted by some of the best musical talent of this city, proposes to give a concert at Sarepta Hall on Tuesday evening next. Prof. C. served as a gallant soldier in the Conlederate army, and has since then become blind, and is thus thrown upon his musical abilities ora support. He gave a concert in Warrenton last week, assisted by some of the sweetest fewale voices in that place, which is highly stoken of. The Index says: "Mr. Charles Clary is blind and led now, but there was a time when his eye lighted up at the sound of martial mu c, and rested levingly on the stars and bars. lie is from the Valley and was a soldier. COP QUICKEN THE CIRCULATION .- Don't let the blood stagnate in your veins. You can prevent its doing so by increasing its volume and purity, by stimulating the digestive organs, and encouraging assimilation, with that match-less vitalizing agent, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. People not affected with any organic or inorgan ic disease, grow wan and haggard simply be cause their blood is thin, watery, deficient in neurishing properties and so meager in quantity that the extremities are very imperfectly sup-plied with it, and the superficial circulation ex-tremely feeble. Hence the bloodless appearance of the countenance. But when the Bitters are used to enrich and quicken the blood, the rosy hue of health returns to the cheek, the frame acquires substance as well as vigor, the appetite improves, and no digestive qualmainterfere either with the gratification or the subsequent franquility of the stomach.
